Please support your son through this important period by ensuring there is ongoing revision, practice and reviewing of past papers with mark schemes and regular revision of topics at home. In addition, it is also advised that removing gadgets from their bedroom after 10pm (tablets, phones and computers etc.), eating fruit and keeping well hydrated as well as taking regular breaks can assist with concentration. All A-level lessons will restart from Monday 12th June and attendance is compulsory. Should you require any further detail about the above examinations, please feel free to contact me by email at mfederici@northlondongrammar.com

Yours Sincerely

Max Federici
